Lieutenant Rodgers' Report.

New York, April 5.—[Special.]—The Herald prints a ... [illegible] ... that the new stockholders will be the ones to share the profits."

The Herald's Views.

New York, April 5.—[Special.]—The Herald, reviewing Rodgers' Panama canal report, says: "Its conclusions will not encourage investment, but they sound like good sense. Certainly, if it has cost thirteen million francs to get ready to scratch away rubbish, and mark the ground, four or five times as much will not suffice, five times as much will, to complete the canal, with such cuts as are desirable."

Diaz Received by the Produce Exchange.

New York, April 5.—A reception was given to Gen. Diaz to-day by the Produce Exchange. There was a large attendance. The exchange was draped in the American colors, and the Seventh regiment band was engaged for the occasion. L. F. Holman, president of the exchange, read an address of welcome, to which Diaz replied. After the reception Diaz and party, accompanied by a number of members of the exchange, visited the grain elevators and other points of interest.

The Chicago Strike.

Chicago, April 5.—A meeting of masons and builders, at a meeting to-day decided not to employ union men after April 10th. The exchange has raised $400 for the purpose of importing non-union hands. About 300 union men, on a strike for an advance of wages, held a meeting to-night and ordered all union apprentices to stop work. The union defiantly claim to have money enough to hold out.

A Big Fee.

The trial of the suit of ex-Senator Doolittle against Jacob Forsythe and wife for $75,000 attorney's fees in negotiating sale to a syndicate of a tract of land known as East Chicago, on the east shore, across the Indiana line, for $1,000,000, was begun in the U. S. circuit court to-day. After payment of $333,000 the syndicate defaulted on the remainder of the purchase money and the sale went for naught. Defendants therefore refuse to pay attorney's fees.

Smallpox Spreading.

Topeka, April 5.—Information from the towns of Empire City and Galena, which are only separated by an imaginary line, is to the effect that there is no abatement of smallpox there. Business of all kinds is entirely suspended. The local authorities have exhausted all the funds at their command. In Galena alone there have been fifty deaths. The population is mostly of people of slender means.

Folger's Mist, &c.

Chicago, April 5.—The United States sub-treasurer of Chicago to-day refused to exchange $11,000 in gold certificates into smaller denominations. A prominent banker says he has it from the best authority that Secretary Folger is confident he has made a mistake in limiting interchange to New York, and that he will soon arrange for like facilities for western banks.

The Public will View the Remains.

New York, April 5.—At the funeral of Peter Cooper Saturday, the church, with the exception of the center isle, will be open to the public after the services. The body will be in the church till 4 P.M., and an opportunity will be given the public to view the remains.

Away from Home.

New York, April 5.—[Special.]—The Hotel Reporter gives, among the San Francisco residents at hotels here, the following: S. C. Davis, H. B. Slaven, W. A. Slaven, J. A. Sevenoaks, F. J. Lyman, L. Alich, Miss Allen, and W. Shaw.

Business Places to be Closed.

New York, April 5.—The board of Aldermen have taken action in the death of Peter Cooper, and request citizens to close their places of business the day of the funeral, and ship masters to half mast their flags.

No Exemption.

Harrisburg, April 5.—The bill exempting those who observe the seventh day of the week from the penalties of the Sunday laws of 1794 was defeated in the house, 84 ayes to 14 nays.

A Texas Fight.

Sherman, April 5.—Two farmers, named Miller and Carpenter, had a fight. Miller received three bullets, and is likely to die. They fought twice before with knives.

WASHINGTON.

The Career and Public Services of General Barnes.

Washington, April 5.—Adjutant General R. C. Drum this afternoon issued, by order of General Sherman, an order announcing the death and reviewing the services of Brevet Major General Joseph Barnes, Brigadier General U. S. A., retired, late surgeon general of the army, wherein it is stated that he entered the service as an assistant surgeon in June, 1840. He was promoted to surgeon in August, 1856; to medical inspector, with rank of lieutenant colonel, in February 1863; to medical inspector general, rank of colonel August, 1863, and to surgeon general, with rank of brigadier, August 4, 1864.

He was relieved from active service by operation of the law of June 30, 1882. He was an eminent and skillful surgeon and physician distinguished for great administrative ability as head of the medical department. He inaugurated the medical history of the war. He founded the Medical Museum and brought the medical department to the highest state of science. At the time of the assassination of President Lincoln and attempted assassination of Secretary Seward, he attended the death bed of one and ministered with interesting energy and skill to the successful termination of the other. During the long illness of President Garfield, he was one of the distinguished surgeons of the land who for days and nights attended the dying president, and during these protracted hours of anxious care, his own health gave away. From that moment to the time of his death, he was an invalid. The order closes "His career was one of honor to himself and great service to his country."

Consul Francis' Salmon Report.

Washington, April 5.—[Special.]—Consul Francis, of Victoria, B. C., reports to the state department that the twenty salmon canneries of that province aggregated, for the season of 1882, 235,000 cases, valued at $1,175,000. Over 9000 cases were sent to Canada and Australia, via San Francisco. Francis says the salmon business on the coast of British Columbia and Alaska territory can be prosecuted with profit to almost an unlimited extent. It is established beyond a doubt that the coast of Alaska, should canned or packed salmon meet in the future a considerable demand in the states, could supply the same from this one of its inexhaustible resources.

Presidential Appointments.

Washington, April 5.—The President has made the following appointments: E. W. Sheldon, of Maryland, associate justice of the supreme court of the territory of Arizona, vice W. W. Hoover, suspended; S. E. Snyder, agent Indians at Fort Peck agency, Montana, vice Nathan S. Porter, resigned; Wm. W. Carter, collector internal revenue of the seventh district of Indiana; David Q. Russell, United States marshal for the eastern district of Arkansas; Henry Ward, Indian inspector, vice Wm. Jolleck, resigned.

Arthur Departs for Florida.

Washington, April 5.—President Arthur, Secretary Chandler and Mr. Miller, of New York, left here this morning for Jacksonville, Florida. Representatives of the Chicago Tribune, New York Sun and New York Times accompanied the party.

SPORTING NOTES.

Vignaux Beats the Best Record.

Chicago, April 5.—Last night when Vignaux and Morris played, the great event of the evening and of the tournament, was the nineteenth inning, when Vignaux ran the game out with 246, beating the best record ever made, and making the highest average. He seemed to have little notion of accomplishing the big result when he began the inning, and until he had reached 100 played rather a reckless game. He had the balls railed twice, but did not care to keep them long, but as he passed 100 he took to the intention of making a great run, and he did it in magnificent fashion; and from this same every shot was made with extreme care, and, while he did a small proportion of close nursing, his long drives for position were phenomenally accurate, and, as a consequence, he had very few difficult shots to make. Whenever the balls were separated he collected them quickly, with one or two well judged strokes and completed the run which gave him the game with perfect ease. He scored with the balls in position for many more. Score: Vignaux, 600, average, 31 11-19; highest run, 246. Morris, 297, average, 20 7-19; highest run, 60.

Greatest Game on Record.

Chicago, April 5. The afternoon game in the Brunswick-Balke tournament proved to be the greatest game yet played. Schaefer had for his opponent [illegible] ... 248; Average, 17 13-14; highest run, 53. Time, one hour and thirty-five minutes.

The Jury Decides that Verona Baldwin is Not Guilty.

ANOTHER DESPERATE FIGHT WITH APACHES.

A Shooting Affray ... [illegible] ... Conference of the Mormon Church in Session.

San Francisco, April 5.—[Special.]—During the argument in the Verona Baldwin case the crowd in the court room was dense ... and the doors were besieged by a crowd which was unable to gain admittance, and the services of a number of police officers were required to keep them within the prescribed boundaries. The defendant occupied a seat between her counsel, and appeared to take little interest in the proceedings. She was clad in deep mourning, and during the course of the argument seemed busily engaged in reading a book. J. J. McElvira, of Washington Territory, continued the argument for the defense, contending that his client was entitled to an acquittal, on the ground that she had been driven insane by the persecution of her seducer, together with the shame and agony of mind following her seduction. The district attorney insisted that Baldwin should be regarded in a light other than that of a female Lothario, and that the plea of insanity must signally fail. The court gave a most exhaustive charge to the jury, which, in some respects, was considered favorable to the defendant, and shortly before 12 the jury retired, and subsequently returned, asking for the reading of the answer made by Dr. May, to a hypothetical question which, in effect, stated that he believed her of unsound mind and not responsible for her action. The jury retired a second time, and at two o'clock announced that they had agreed upon a verdict. A rush was made by patient spectators for choice seats, the inner circle of the courtroom also containing a number of ladies, including friends of the accused. She appeared a trifle nervous, and when the verdict of not guilty was rendered she smiled, while the spectators manifested their approval by subdued applause. Defendant was surrounded by her friends and strangers, who seemed bent upon extending their congratulations. She subsequently stated to an Oregonian correspondent that she had not decided as to her future course, and pending the decision of her friends would reside in Oakland.

California Grain Trade Association Organized.

San Francisco, April 5.—[Special.]—At a meeting of representatives of the leading mercantile houses of this city the California Grain Trade association was formed, and a committee appointed to draw by-laws. A second committee was named to arrange a uniform grain charter, subject to approval at a future meeting. Another committee was formed to draw up and submit to the association a cargo contract form for sales in Europe. The recent unjust and excessive arbitration and allowances on cargoes of California wheat in Liverpool were discussed, and a firm resolution manifested to have, if possible, some fair remedy or a change. With this view the chairman, William F. Babcock, was requested to cable the proceedings to the Liverpool Corn Trade association.

Death of Engineer Ross.

San Francisco, April 5.—[Special.]—John E. Ross, district engineer of the fire department, who was so terribly burned at the Palace hotel gas explosion, died at an early hour this morning, the immediate cause being suffocation, the tonsils having swollen so as to render it impossible to breathe. Mr. Ross has had several narrow escapes from death at prior fires, and bore the reputation of being one of the most intrepid and courageous men in the department. It is not expected that any other fatal cases will follow. The patients are reported improving, although some of them are swollen beyond recognition.

Chinese Flooding the Hawaiian Islands.

San Francisco, April 5.—[Special.]—It is stated that the Hawaiian government is prohibiting the direct importation of Chinese from Asia to the Hawaiian islands. The steamer Oceanic on her next voyage will go to Honolulu direct from Hongkong before reaching San Francisco, and will carry nearly 1000 Chinese laborers. Over 3000 have already contracted for passage, and the next five steamers will take them to the islands.

ARIZONA.

Stubborn Fight with Apaches.

Tombstone, April 5.—A letter from J. G. Kennealy, of Sonora, reports a fight between a party of three Americans and Apaches eighteen miles from Ures. George Watson, Charles Forman and Ed. Green composed the party. The fight lasted some hours, during which Watson and one Indian were killed. The whole party would have been taken but for the opportune arrival of Mexican troops.

Mexican Indians.

Tucson, A. T., April 5.—No reports reach here of any change in Indian affairs. The captured Chiricahua Indian has positively denied to Agent Wilcox of San Carlos agency, that any of the Indians engaged in recent murders were fugitives from the reservation, but asserts that they belonged to bands never within the government lines since his official administration.

Reservation Indians not with the Hostiles.

Tucson, April 5.—A special to the Citizen from Gen. Wilcox says that the White Mountain Chiricahua captured by Yuma scouts denies that the hostiles are joined by any reservation Indians. He left Juh's band after the killing of Judge McComas. [Later.—General Crook and party arrived at Wilcox this evening.]

UTAH.

The Mormons' Conference.

Salt Lake, April 5.—The preliminary conference of the Mormon church opened this morning with the usual long prayers for the kingdom of God, but not a word for the American republic. Taylor and Cannon addressed the brethren on the success of the church and its growth, and said it now embraced a country 1200 miles in extent. Cannon said, that he had heard more good sense in the marriage of the saints than he had in the halls of congress during his delegateship. In the afternoon Apostle Snow preached the order of Enoch and the necessity of saints owning property in common. The regular conference opens to-morrow morning. The city is crowded, and special trains are swelling the throng.

Shot Three Times.

Salt Lake, April 5.—This morning a man by the name of Henry White was taken to St. Mark's hospital, with three bullet wounds in his body. He had trouble with Steed, at Farmington, north of this city a short distance, when Steed followed and shot him, inflicting three dangerous wounds. White made his escape, and reached Salt Lake this forenoon, after being exposed to a severe storm last night. There is a woman at the bottom of the trouble.

Infested with Thieves.

Salt Lake, April 5.—The city is infested with thieves, who have been on the line of the Denver and Rio Grande all winter. They are now making Salt Lake their headquarters, and their depredations are numerous.

Blessed with Rain.

Salt Lake, April 5.—The rain which has prevailed for the past five days stopped to-day. It insures excellent spring crops all over the territory.

DEFAULTER GRAY.

He is Interviewed at Guaymas, and Says he will Make a Revelation when he Gets Home.

Guaymas, Mexico, April 5.—John S. Gray, defaulting secretary of the board of harbor commissioners who was arrested here yesterday, was interviewed as follows:

Reporter—I am informed that certain parties assisted you in leaving San Francisco?

Answer—On this I do not desire to say, as it might irritate the detectives. I will only say, that I received aid in my exit from San Francisco.

Reporter—How long, before you came to this place, were you in Sonora?

Gray—I remained in Hermosillo for three days and as I designed returning to San Francisco I came to Guaymas in the hope of finding a sailing vessel for that point, when I could have arrived there and had time to arrange my answer to the charge made against me.

Reporter—Are there parties in San Francisco who are implicated with you in the defalcation?

Gray—Truly speaking, though my friends may show it, I am not a defaulter. I desire to return to San Francisco. There are parties who do not wish me to return, whatever be the consequences. I can show that I was not the gainer by this matter.

Reporter—It is reported that you brought some $11,000 with you?

Gray—The United States consul has all my funds, amounting to some $10. Will you let me ask you a question?

Reporter—Certainly.

Gray—I have been told that there is no authority to hold persons here on telegrams and that I am illegally held.

Reporter—[illegible]

Gray—I don't desire to say.

Reporter—Will you tell me who are the parties in the Southern Pacific railroad who [illegible] at Benson?

Gray—No, sir, I have had aid from friends, but decline to give names.

Reporter—What was your idea in coming to this place, where you were almost sure of being recognized?

Gray—I designed going farther south, [illegible]

Reporter—Will you return to San Francisco to [illegible]?

Gray—Yes, but not with irons.

Reporter—Are you aware of the total amount of the defalcation charged to you?

Gray—No. I have seen but one of the papers, and that of an older date.

Reporter—Are you aware that you are charged with [illegible] figures [illegible] also for a draft [illegible]?

Gray—[illegible] but I hope to explain the matter when I get home.

That the stock of the company, of which the par value is $100, has very seldom been below that figure. Being asked, "What is your estimate of the probable expense of construction and the time to complete the undertaking?" Appleton said: "I do not hesitate to say that it is of little import if it should cost $100,000,000 and take 2 years to build it, for it is for all time and for all nations." H. H. Slaven, an enterprising young Californian, is the first American to take hold of the actual work of dredging, and the extensive operations he has carried on ... company, the stockholders being ... of San Francisco and New York, he being president. Three of their machines have been built at an expense of $125,000 each. THE "HERALD" THROWS COLD WATER.

Boston, April 5.—[Special.]—Herald, editorially: The statement in a Boston Memorial that the Nicaragua company intends to begin operations within a few weeks is interesting, but hardly conclusive. We very much doubt whether it is possible to raise, in this country, the $47,000,000 needed to construct the canal across Central America, particularly as it has yet to be demonstrated that the undertaking at Panama will prove a failure. There is every reason now to believe that it will be successfully carried out. As a military measure the canal at Nicaragua is an undertaking which our government might undertake, but the scheme is not an attractive one from a capitalist's point of view, and we very much doubt whether Menocal and his friends are likely, in the meantime, to raise even one per cent. of the money they require from general investors.

MOB LAW IN NEBRASKA.

Two Confessed Murderers Hanged by Indignant Citizens at Hastings.

Omaha, April 5.—[Special.]—The citizens of Hastings, Neb., at 1 o'clock Tuesday night, lynched two men for the murder of Cash Millet, grocer of that town, on the night of Tuesday, March 20. Millet, while on his way home, was assaulted by three masked highwaymen, and when he started to run away, he was shot in the back, from the effects of which he died last Saturday night, and was buried on Sunday. The affair created great excitement and the citizens immediately offered $1000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderers. Three young men, Fred Ingram, John Babcock and Jim Green, who had resided in and around Hastings for some time, were arrested a day or two after the murder. The clue leading to their arrest was a calico mask which one of them had dropped near the scene of the tragedy, and which was proven to have been a ...

[illegible]

In Green's room at the hotel. The prisoners were kept separately, and the officers succeeded in making two of them think that the third had confessed, which was a fact, and there was sufficient ground to lead everybody to believe beyond a doubt that the right men had been arrested. Babcock was the one who made the confession, the substance of which was that they had intended robbery only, but when Millet ran away, Ingram fired the fatal shot. Ingram confessed that he was concerned in the affair, but did not fully admit the shooting, stating that if he did it he was so excited that he did not know what he was about. Early on Sunday morning, before Millet's death became generally known, the prisoners were hurried out of town and taken to the penitentiary at Lincoln for safe keeping, as it was feared that the citizens would immediately lynch them. The coroner's jury had not yet returned a verdict, and they refused to proceed unless the prisoners were returned, so that they could be examined further. Accordingly the prisoners were returned last evening and taken to the court house, where a coroner's jury immediately returned a verdict that Millet came to his death by a pistol shot fired by the prisoners. Upon being at once arraigned before Judge Work, Green and Ingram pleaded not guilty, while Babcock pleaded guilty. This was followed by

INTENSE EXCITEMENT

Among the vast crowd assembled in and around the courthouse, and it was expected that lynching would soon take place. The prisoners were put in a room and closely guarded by the sheriff and several deputies, and a close watch was kept by the citizens to see that they were not spirited away again. At 10 o'clock a large party of masked and armed men appeared at the courthouse and proceeding to the courtroom, broke open the door, and covered the guards and prisoners with about 30 guns. The guards were ordered to leave which they did, and thereupon the mob took the prisoners, bound and gagged them and brought them down stairs. Only those who were masked were allowed to participate in the necktie sociable, all others being ordered back. The lynchers proceeded to the St. Joe and Western railroad bridge, a half mile from the depot, and hanged Green and Ingram to the bridge without any ceremony, the job being done quietly and quickly. Their hands and feet were tied and they had no coats, hats or boots on. Their remains were left hanging to the bridge. Babcock was not hanged, but was taken back to town and turned over to the authorities. His life was spared temporarily at least, in consideration of his confession and of giving his companions away. He will, however, be tried by law for murder. Many seem to think that he too should have swung off. The bodies of Green and Ingram were cut down to-day and taken charge of by the coroner. The lynching is generally approved.

PATRICK EGAN.

He Accuses the English Government of Publishing Garbled Portions of His Letters.

Chicago, April 5.—[Special.]—Patrick Egan, treasurer of the Irish Land League, left for Buffalo this evening. To a California press reporter he said there is no foundation for the allegation of dissensions in the Irish party in Ireland or its interference with Parnell's intended presence at the National Land League meeting in Philadelphia the last of this month. It was a persistent English lie, the English correspondents sending false statements about the Irish party here just as they did from this country to England during our civil war. Parnell never stood higher with his countrymen than now. He would certainly be here at the coming meeting. In regard to the coming convention he said: "It will undoubtedly contain the flower of the Irish race in the United States—lawyers, physicians, merchants, literary men, farmers, etc.—and will assemble with a high sense of its responsibility. Its intellectual strength and moral force will show the English government that our people in this free country unite in demanding a free government for their countrymen in Ireland." In regard to the fabled statement that letters from him to Egan had been found among the papers of Informer Carey, he said: "It is very likely true, and the use of the fact shows the perfidiousness of the methods of English misrule in Ireland. What would fair-minded Americans think if your government published a single sentence of a letter,

SUPPRESSING THE CONTEXT,

For the purpose of putting a false meaning on quoted words. Would public opinion tolerate such dishonesty as that on the part of the attorney general in prosecuting the Star route cases? Would it have been tolerated in the Guiteau case? Certainly not; because you believe in even handed justice, but English administration in Ireland is conducted on any plan that suits the foreign mercenaries who represent the English crown. It is enough to say that I have challenged the government to publish in full any letter or letters of mine in possession of Carey or anyone else. The quoted expression was, 'I think, I hope you will succeed with the business in hand.' A pertinent inquiry is what is the date of that letter, and what was the business Carey then had in hand? In October, 1881, he was a candidate for town councillor in Dublin. He wrote me in Paris, asking me to procure for him the support of some friends in his ward. I knew nothing whatever against him at that time, and as he was a working man, and we were anxious to get that class into the town council, I complied with the request. That was the business he had in hand; that was what the letter alluded to. I never exchanged a word with James Carey in my life, except in relation to a municipal election."

SKIPPING SKINNER.

He Fleeces Gullible Californians out of Several Thousand Dollars.

San Francisco, April 5.—[Special.]—Sensational developments have been made in connection with the adventures in this city of an eastern railroad gentleman named Skinner, who succeeded in dazzling local capitalists. Representations were made by him that ... railroad ... the construction of a railroad from this city to Salt Lake, there connecting with the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, ... system to be controlled by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. He also brought with him a number of letters to prominent merchants, whom he subsequently attempted to fleece. During his stay at the Baldwin hotel he procured from a young lady operator [illegible]

DYNAMITE DISCOVERY.

English Police Unearth a Manufactory of Explosives.

THE MEN CONNECTED THEREWITH ARRESTED.

Sufficient Nitro-Glycerine Seized to Blow up the Entire Kingdom—England Intensely Excited.

Birmingham, April 5.—The city police made a raid upon a suspected locality in Ledsam street and discovered a complete nitro-glycerine factory in full operation. The apparatus for preparing and mixing the explosive compound was constructed on scientific principles, and with all the cunning and craft which clearly showed its inventor to be not only a thorough scholar in chemistry and machinery, but also an adept for expedients for avoiding notoriety and preventing discovery. Among the noteworthy features of the place was a shrewdly-devised method for carrying fumes up the chimney and consuming the odors. It is learned that the premises in Ledsam street were taken two months ago by a man named Whitehead, an Irish-American, who had a sign hung out in front of the place indicating that his business was that of a paper hanger. Whitehead himself was taken into custody when the police made the descent on the den, and is now in close confinement. A considerable quantity of nitro-glycerine was seized by the officers at the same time. Information is now in the hands of the detectives that tends to demonstrate that this place is the central manufactory of explosives and the most important depot of all infernal contrivances in the kingdom. Whitehead, who is described as a man about 25 years of age, with a dark complexion, and with a marked American accent, has been in the habit of purchasing supplies of nitro-glycerine and acids which were necessary to run the business.

Dynamite Discoveries and Arrests of Conspirators Crowd Rapidly Upon Each Other.

London, April 5.—The exciting events of this day crowded each other so fast that their importance could scarcely be realized until the later hours to-night. A complete summing up of the surprises includes the unearthing of the most important dynamite factory ever discovered, the arrest of four ruffians, three in London and one in Birmingham, an attempt on the government magazine in Ireland, reception of an incendiary letter in London and the discovery of an astounding and audacious scheme of Nihilists to blow up the Czar's residence at Moscow. Excitement over these affairs is not confined to government officials but it is apparent in the street to even the most casual observer. The prompt action of the government officers is highly commendable. The postoffice and neighboring government property is placed under an increased guard, and the royal residence at Windsor is given a

LARGE FORCE OF SENTINELS,

Sent thither in a private manner. This precaution was made necessary because the government officers learned late last night that, in connection with the discovery of a dynamite factory at Birmingham, it seems the conspirators were already on the way to Windsor from Birmingham. It is stated in official circles that there is reason to believe that the whole incendiary and dynamite conspiracy here and in America will now be laid bare, and the number of arrests shortly increase. The man first arrested last night near Fleet street, had engaged rooms on Southampton street, corner Strand, giving the name of Ormond, and stating that he was a medical student. He subsequently said that his correct name was Norman. The first inquiry for rooms was made by an elderly man. A

BOX OF EXPLOSIVES

Was taken to Norman's lodgings, by a person of a rakish appearance, who looked more like a tramp or a street idler than a porter or a friend of a student. It is believed that this individual and elderly man have been captured in the persons of two men arrested at Lambeth. One of these men had, in his pockets and sewed up in his clothing, a large sum of money, a portion of which was in American coins. Street rumor made free use of Americans' names and connected many Irish-Americans with the plots. One Lambeth prisoner had secured lodgings in the name of Wilson. His movements excited so much suspicion among his neighbors that he

LEFT HIS ROOM YESTERDAY,

Saying it was his intention to go to Hampton. When he returned at noon to-day he was surprised to find five detectives awaiting him. Norman undoubtedly came direct from Birmingham, where he was stopping just over the office where is printed the Court Circular. The proprietor of that sheet recently received a letter containing dire threats, the origin of which he has now no difficulty in tracing to the prisoner. The fourth arrest was Henry Walton taken into custody to-night. He came from the United States two weeks ago. He was found in

HIS ROOMS AT THE AMERICAN EXCHANGE.

He made no resistance. Dalton is in jail at Scotland yards.

No less a sensation was created in commons when the arrests were announced than elsewhere. Sir Wm. Harcourt, home secretary, in a brief speech outlining the facts, confirmed what had up to this time been mere rumor, that Norman had been arrested. He adds, that 150 pounds of highly explosive liquid had been found in Norman's quarters, stored in skillfully devised rubber bags. He also confirmed the discovery of a dynamite manufactory at Birmingham, and gave

PARTICULARS OF THE AFFAIR

Substantially as related in these dispatches. He said further, that considerable amounts of the same kinds of explosives had been discovered in the rooms of the Lambeth prisoners, and that part of the money on one of these men was in American bank notes, and that there was a connection between the arrests at Birmingham and London, as shown by incidents which had just come to light. The secretary, during the afternoon, sent a dispatch to Birmingham asking the authorities to remand Whitehead for a week. The same action will be taken here under the same directions in the case of Norman. The magistrate at Bow street waited until late in the afternoon for instructions in regard to Norman and his two Lambeth accomplices, and finally receiving a telegram from the home secretary announced that no formal charge would be brought against the prisoners to-day, and they were accordingly remanded.

Norman had Plenty of Explosives.

London, April 5.—The rubber bags found in Norman's quarters contained nitro glycerine sufficient to blow up any town in the kingdom. The police believe he was engaged in a plan to carry out dynamite doctrines, which are particularly fostered by O'Donovan Rossa. Henry Dalton, the man of short stature and pock marked, was an occasional caller at Bowles' American reading room, No. 14 Strand. This arrest was effected owing to information derived from papers found on the prisoner. It is believed by the authorities that Dalton is an emissary of the dynamite faction in the United States. The man arrested with Wilson at Lambeth is named Gallagher. Papers found on him prove his connection with Whitehead. The Woolwich authorities say that the compound at Lambeth is nitro-glycerine, and is identical with that found in Norman's quarters. Gallagher's portmanteau was closely packed with explosives, acids, 11 gallons nitroglycerine and mixed acids, a cooling machine, hydrometers and a variety of chemical appliances. Whitehead paid £27 for one consignment of glycerine.

Gallagher declares himself an American citizen. When arrested nearly £200 in English and American notes were found on him. He is 30 years old. The explosives at Lambeth were also taken to Plumstead Marsh, after being tested at Woolwich. The nitro-glycerine in Norman's box is made by persons who had little experience in the manufacture of such a dangerous compound, and was therefore peculiarly liable to explode. The arrests to-day were connected with the arrests of Thursday in Liverpool of Dan Desey and Patrick Flanagan.

One of a Series of Dynamite Factories.

London, April 5.—The police believe that the Birmingham factory is one of a series which exists in great towns. Evidence is forthcoming that the persons arrested were connected with the Invincibles. The dynamite used in the Westminster explosion undoubtedly was made at one of the factories of the society. Norman's box was barred outside with wood, for the better protection of the contents, and was fitted with handles. After it had been tested at Woolwich, the box was taken to the magazine at Plumstead Marshes, where it will be kept in water until the officials can safely dispose of the contents. It is believed that the name of Whitehead is an alias, and that the police know his proper name, but wish to keep it secret for the present. Thousands visited the house to-day during the day. The stock in the house consisted of fourteen carboys holding ten gallons each of sulphuric and nitric acid, a great number of cans of glycerine and mixed ...

The Charge Against Whitehead.

Birmingham, April 5.—In accordance with a request of the home office, Whitehead was remanded for one week. The charge against him is of having in his possession explosive compounds and materials, in violation of law. At the examination evidence was given showing that the police had followed Norman, who was arrested in London, from Whitehead's house in this city. He took a box from Whitehead's house. This photograph has been identified by Carey, the informer, and three others, as that of "Number One." It is stated that a portion of the money with which Tynan was entrusted for distribution can be traced to the Invincibles. The government is in possession of an affidavit to the effect that Tynan and "Number One" are identical. The crown will strongly request the agent for a postponement of the trial. Peter Carey, brother of James, is accepted as an informer.

Berlin, April 5.—The government will justify the arrest of deputies to the reichstag, pending the session of that body, by declaring that the men arrested were under suspicion of having brought contraband writings into Germany.

RUSSIA.

Trial of Nihilists.

St. Petersburg, April 5.—Developments of the utmost importance are expected in connection with the coming great trial of nihilists in this city. It was originally believed that this trial would be the last of the kind on the list. Recent arrests, however, have made other nihilistic trials probable, and it is the present intention to arraign newly discovered plotters, either before the coronation of the czar or directly after. The accused have, with three exceptions, already pleaded guilty of belonging to a party which they assist in fact as well as in name, "The will of the people."

An Idle Rumor.

St. Petersburg, April 5.—It is semi-officially announced that there is not the slightest warrant for the report that a large mine had been discovered connecting with Kremlin.

Rioting along the Line.

Panama, March 27.—Severe and continuous rioting is taking place along the line of the canal works, originating in race hatred between the Jamaicans and the Carthaginians. Some 20 of the former have been massacred and the government finds itself unable to restore order, arms being independently purchased. As no work is going on, and as there is about 800 men drinking, a really serious trouble is anticipated on the isthmus which is being rapidly overrun by the dregs of all nations. De Lesseps leaves the isthmus to-day for New York. He insists that the canal will be in fine shape by 1888.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 6, 1883.

THE PROTEST OF MOSES.

Chief Moses probably has never heard of Punic Faith: that is, he would hardly designate, and perhaps would not even recognize, treaty-breaking by that name. And yet he has about as clear an idea of the thing itself as if he were able to give the classical name for it. In all probability he could turn the idea contained in Cato's sententious Latin into most expressive Okanagan, giving, if not an elegant equivalent of Punica fides, at least a definition drawn from his own experience, of all that the term implies. In plain words, Moses feels that he is being wrongly dealt with about his lands; and in good sooth he has too much reason to feel so. Some years ago, in order to extinguish his claim to certain lands in and about the Spokane and Colville country, and in the great bend of the Columbia river, the government set him apart a reservation on the north side of the Columbia, lying west of the Okanagan and extending north to the line of British Columbia. Before this reservation was set apart for him, he and his people had roved at large in a region upon which the whites were making rapid encroachments; and though Moses regretted to give up the country, he finally consented to do so, on the assurance that he would never be disturbed upon his reservation lands. Moses himself made a trip to Washington to see about the matter, where it took a long time to overcome his doubts and objections. But President Hayes bade him dismiss his fears, assured him that the government would keep its faith, and told him to go home and move his people to their new seat. Upon his return he had a good deal of difficulty to reconcile his people to the compact. Some didn't want to move, and others declared that Moses had been duped, and they were to be swindled. However, an executive order was issued, setting off the reservation according to the agreement, and Moses and his band moved to it as required. The country comprised within the reservation is mostly hilly or mountainous. But it has some small though fertile valleys, is watered by fine streams which are full of fish, and affords excellent and abundant grazing. Moses and his people have occupied it a little more than two years.

But there has been more than one parallel to the history of Naboth's vineyard. Nothing is more common than to find covetous eyes set upon others' lands, and Moses had the instinct of apprehension when he hesitated to accept the offer of the reservation. It is said that the northern part of the tract contains deposits of gold and silver, and of course white men want to get at them. This seems to be the moving cause which has led to an executive order that cuts off a large section of the reservation and restores it to the public domain. Since Moses is not working these mines, the whites of that region ask why they should not, forgetting that it is a matter of contract and good faith between an Indian tribe and the government. The same authority that assured to Moses the possession of this whole tract in perpetuity now cuts off a large slice from the northern part of it; and he complains, if not in the words, at least in the spirit of Hotspur, that this new order, which he had no reason to expect, but every reason to suppose would never be made,

> ——comes me cranking in,
> And cuts me from the best of all my land,
> A huge half-moon, a monstrous cantle out.

The position of Moses is a very difficult one. True enough, the land may be of no great value to him or to his people. But they are a good deal like other human beings in this, namely, they want their rights respected and desire to have something that can be surely called their own. This act embarrasses Moses greatly, and naturally shakes his authority with his people. From the first they were full of distrust, and he had extreme difficulty to prevail on them to accept the reservation. They now taunt him with the foretold result of his diplomatic effort, and are ready to believe they will not be allowed to keep any part of the land. Moses himself is at Vancouver to consult on the subject with the commander of the military department. He is an Indian who deserves honorable treatment at the hands of the government. To his efforts it was largely due that the Indians of the upper Columbia region did not take part in the Bannock and Nez Perce outbreaks. His friendship and fidelity at that time were of inestimable value and ought to be remembered, and at the same time rewarded by scrupulous performance of faith with him. Of the fragments of the various tribes which he represents some six or seven hundred men remain. While nothing could be more irrational than a rising on their part, it ought to be remembered that Indians, under similar circumstances, have not been noted for doing rational and prudent things. Any serious trouble with these Indians would be a terrible blow to the growth and prosperity of the whole upper country. Is it worth while to incur this danger, or even if there be no danger, is it proper to commit a breach of faith for a tract which is inconsistently said by those who still insist upon having it, to possess very little value? We shall be mistaken if the protest of Moses do not have weight at Washington.

MANAGEMENT OF SCHOOL AFFAIRS.

A correspondent calls attention to what has long been notorious, namely, the loose manner in which the business of many country school districts is carried on. It is true, as our correspondent says, that in many localities scarcely any attention whatever is paid to the laws which ought to control district school management; and it is true also that if these derelictions were exposed to the proper officials, fully half of the districts in the state would not draw their share of the state school fund. And it is also true that many directors and clerks wholly disregard the laws regulating the time and manner of their official service. School affairs throughout the state, except in a comparatively few districts where the population is large and the special tax heavy, are loosely conducted, though we are not ready to believe that dishonest practices, of which our correspondent hints, are common. But it is bad enough, and a wrong sufficiently flagrant to demand correction, that public business involving the handling of public money is not carried on as the laws direct, or even in a business-like way. The difficulty about proper school management in country districts is that it does not demand enough attention from the officials to command their interest. They are not paid for doing neighborhood work and so, too often, don't do it, trusting that school affairs will "somehow drift along all right." Of course, all this is an indication of local apathy in school matters. As school management on the part of officials is neglected, the schools themselves become inefficient. For example, if there is no care in the selection of teachers, poor teachers take the places which should be given to good ones, and if schools are not properly inspected, and looked after, the best teachers are likely to grow careless and slight their work. The duties of our state superintendent are in relation only to the art or profession of teaching. He has no authority, if he had time, to examine the business management of the various districts. There should be an officer for this special work, and until there is one we fear there will be but little improvement in the conduct of school affairs.

Tribulation now will overtake the "dives." It is not going to be so easy to pay the $500 license fee, and still less easy will it be to get the bond. The amount of the bond will be $5000, and no one will be accepted as a surety unless he pays a tax on property to the amount of $1000. Now let us see who will go on bonds for disreputable places. They who don't want to see their names in THE OREGONIAN in that connection would do well to be a little careful about it.

INDIAN VS. AMERICAN WHEAT.

A telegraphic dispatch gives something for American farmers to consider in relation to Indian vs. American wheat. Within a few years India has become a great producer of wheat, and extension of railways throughout that vast country will rapidly increase its production. Already the wheat crop of India is large enough to be an important factor in controlling the European market. With the addition of another great wheat-growing country to the sources of the world's supply, there will be a further strong check to the irregularity of speculative values. For us the important fact is that we shall stand less chance of getting the fancy prices which have at intervals favored us, in consequence of scarcity in European markets; and we shall also, perhaps, receive a less average rate for our wheat than heretofore, because of this competition from the wheat fields of India.

The total area of India under British administration is 904,000 square miles. A large part of this vast area is fit for cultivation of wheat, but much of it is yet overgrown with jungle, and the process of clearing is slow and expensive, while nearly all of it requires irrigation. A great many varieties of wheat are produced in the country. Some of them are inferior; but compared by English standard in quality and value to American wheat, select lots have been found equal to the best Oregon and California. It is said that the average best grade, however, is between No. 1 and No. 2, Milwaukee; but the standard of all grades is being gradually raised by more care in separating the varieties, more thorough cleaning and the use of better seed. The annual production of wheat in British India has of late years steadily increased, until it now reaches the enormous total of about 240,000,000 bushels. The agricultural laborer is a tenant on hard conditions, and is by custom and bigotry almost a fixture on the particular spot of land where he was born. His farming is done on a very small scale and according to old methods to which he clings with religious veneration; his wants are very few, and he endures poverty and even hunger with patience; he cultivates his patch of 5 to 15 acres on shares for the landed proprietor, who holds under rental to the government. Everything is done by hand; tools and implements are of the rudest kind; but the farmer can be independent on 10 cents a day, and of course counts his labor as next to nothing. He can therefore sell his wheat at a very low price. It is quite possible that these cheap methods in India may ere long considerably affect wheat-growing in America. This affords another suggestion that our farmers on the Pacific coast of America ought not to depend so much as they do upon the production of wheat alone, but that it would be to their interest to develop, as fast as they can, a more varied agricultural industry.

WORK FOR RETIRED ARMY OFFICERS.

Much was said in congress during the past session about the army but little to any real purpose. There can be no doubt, as the house by a decided vote declared, that the pay corps is absurdly overgrown and that it costs too much money. And perhaps the medical corps, too, with its civilian "acting assistants" or contract men, is unnecessarily large and expensive at this peaceful time. In these branches of the service there is, if we may trust authority which appears to be intelligent, opportunity for retrenchment without in anywise affecting the efficiency of the army. But a still greater saving could be made by a proper employment of retired officers of the army who, though many of them are capable, do nothing whatever in return for the large sum they draw each year from the public treasury. The people willingly support those who have grown gray in the service or who, through its toils and dangers, have become helpless. But fully half of the members of the retired list are active and capable for any service save that of actual warfare. Many of them are in business for themselves and not at all in need of the half pay which they draw. The work of the pension bureau ought to be performed by these retired officers. It is a service in which a permanent and responsible corps ought to be employed and for which retired officers, if they be not wholly disabled, are abundantly qualified. It is an injustice to the toiling millions to tax them for the support in idleness of men who are able to do many kinds of service for which the government employs men not more capable than themselves. By putting the pension work into the hands of retired officers, the whole service of the pension bureau could be dismissed. The saving in salaries alone would be great. And besides the economical consideration, this would be a step toward the much-desired civil service reform. It would reform it just in the proportion that it would reduce it; and reduction of the civil service is the surest, if not the only means of reforming it.

Among the schemes by which congressmen secure favor at the general expense, or in other words, make themselves "solid" with the people, the public building scheme ranks high. Theoretically, appropriations are made for buildings because they are needed for government use, and as a matter of fact, they are put up "where they will do the most good;" but the public necessity cuts small figure in the matter. Thus, two public buildings are in progress in Virginia in part payment to Mahone for his services to the republican party.

The new Wisconsin law which prohibits the employment of children under fourteen years of age will, a dispatch says, throw 1000 children in the city of Milwaukee alone out of work. This law is an outrage. It will make paupers of thousands of children. It is a poor sort of charity that takes a boy from an employment, even if irksome and harmful, where he makes an honest living, and puts him in a poor house.

Edward Everett Hale, the New England Women's society, the "National Indian rights association," and other good societies and people, may amuse themselves by holding meetings and making resolutions, but they will accomplish no other good purpose. They know as little about Indian affairs as the Apaches know about Boston culture.

"In the jury box there is as much to be feared from intellectual inanity as from intellectual injustice, and even more." This was written for THE OREGONIAN of yesterday. The editor was delighted with the work of compositor and proof-reader, who "improved" the sentence so as to make it read "intellectual insanity."

The Star route trials have cost the Government an immense amount of money. To lawyers alone, $1[illegible],354.41 has been paid, of which $39,000.00 has gone to George Bliss. Dorsey and Brady probably will not give the public the figures of their disbursements.

If the telegraph tells truly, DeLesseps has gotten his work at Panama well under way. Whether or not he builds the canal, he has shown splendid energy and wonderful financial ability in pushing the scheme thus far.

It didn't pay to bully THE OREGONIAN; now did it, chief whisky "fellers?" The effort hasn't been "healthy," now has it? Just walk up and pay your $500 license fee and furnish the $5000 bond, or shut up shop.

TO PROTECT TIMBER AGAINST FIRE.

The following notice is being extensively circulated throughout Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and is of interest to all concerned:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
GENERAL LAND OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8, 1883.

The attention of the public is called to the fact that large quantities of the public timber is annually destroyed by forest fires, which in many cases, originate through the carelessness of hunting, prospecting and other camping parties, while in some instances they occur through design. I take this method of warning all persons that hereafter, the cause and origin of all forest fires will be closely investigated, and where the fire is ascertained to have originated through either carelessness or design, the parties implicated will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Special timber agents are hereby directed to prosecute against all offenders under the local laws of the state or territory, relating to the unlawful setting out of fires, in which the same may occur. The public, generally, are requested to aid the officers of the government in its efforts to check the evil referred to, and in the punishment of all offenders.

N. C. McFARLAND, Commissioner.

THE TRUE INWARDNESS.

Why it was Proven in the U. S. Court that a Certain Road, Supposed to be a County Road, was Not, in Fact.

The county commissioners have been partly engaged during the past week in considering a petition signed by Abraham Ford and a long list of other names, which asks that a county road be located from low-water mark on river lot No. 9, in Albina, the present ferry landing, to the already established Vancouver road. The road is one already in existence, a portion having been dedicated as streets in Albina and other town sites, and the property owners along the remaining portion express their willingness to have it legalized as a county road. The above petition is accompanied by two remonstrances, one of which is signed by another long list of names, and the other by J. B. Montgomery and William Reid. The first remonstrance is quite lengthy, and after some uninteresting statements, the following allegations are made as reasons why the petition of Ford and others should not be granted:

First.—That a [illegible] route can be had to connect Albina with the Vancouver road. That portion of the road which would lead up the gulch on the Freshwater site, would require a large expenditure of money to make it passable in the wet or winter season, and it would either have to be planked or graveled for a considerable distance.

Second.—It is not the shortest route at the same [illegible] that will connect it on the ferry landing at Albina with the Vancouver road.

Third.—There is at present a traveled road leading from the ferry landing on River street up Mitchell street, and thence northeasterly, connecting with the Vancouver road. This is a more direct route than the proposed road, it also furnishes access from the city of East Portland to Albina, which the proposed road would not, except by making a wide circuit, and it is a road upon which the county has expended considerable money in bridging the gulch and in grading. The proprietors of the land over which this road passes desire that it should be legalized as a county road.

Fourth.—As to the strip of land lying along the easterly side of river lot 9, between River street and the water's edge, upon which the petition asks that a road may be located, we respectfully state that the said strip of land will never constitute any part of the highway other than as a ferry way or ferry landing for the ferry that may be operated at that point, and we respectfully remonstrate and protest as taxpayers against being compelled by the action of this honorable court to purchase a ferry landing for a ferry company under the name of a public road. If the ferry company desire the use of this land for the purposes of its ferry, we respectfully suggest that the honorable court require them to pay for it out of their private funds, as any other business enterprise would be required to do. They are operating their ferry for private gain, and it is but just that they should procure ferry landings at their own private expense.

The above is all taken from the general remonstrance, which is signed by J. H. Stiles, J. B. Montgomery, William Reid, J. M. Buckley and about a score of others. The personal remonstrance of Montgomery and Reid is more in the nature of an explanation to the citizens of Albina and vicinity than anything else. The road mentioned in the remonstrance as being a better and a more direct route than the one asked for in the petition, is the road which was a short time since adjudged by Judge Deady, in the U. S. circuit court, to be not a county road. A great portion of the property along this road is owned or controlled by Montgomery and Reid, and many people supposed the action taken before Judge Deady was in order to get possession of the land over which the road was constructed, and thus close the road to public travel entirely. This Montgomery and Reid, in their personal remonstrance to the county court, deny, stating that they have already taken steps to have the said road legalized by the county court as a county road, excepting that western extremity which leads from the main street in Albina to the water's edge. This they wish to retain as their own private property, and, although it is not so stated in the remonstrance, it is understood that it will be used as a ferry landing for the ferry they hope to construct and operate in opposition to the present Albina ferry. The retention of this piece of property explains some of the whys and wherefores of the action brought before Judge Deady to prove that a county road was not a county road and the present sequel of asking the county court again to legalize a certain portion of it. Some persons who have watched all these matters through their various stages claim to discern at the bottom of it all the smoldering elements of the great Albina ferry war which raged so fiercely a few months ago but which has lately been almost lost sight of.

As yet the county commissioners have taken no further action than to appoint three viewers, Philo Holbrook, P. J. Mann and A. E. Borthwick, who will meet to consider the matter and hear both sides in the case, on Monday, April 16th, at the point of beginning of the road asked for in the petition, that is, at the present ferry landing.

DESIRABLE COUNTRY RESIDENCE FOR sale.—The undersigned offers for sale his country residence, near St. Helens, Columbia county, Oregon, with 236 acres of land, about one half of which is open and fenced. Upon the place there is a general orchard of three acres, and 500 prune and peach plum trees. There is a new two-story frame house, containing nine rooms, all of which are supplied with water; also a large new barn and stable, with all modern conveniences. The place is situated on the wagon road and ½ mile from St. Helens to Portland, is convenient to schools, stores, postoffice and blacksmiths, and in the midst of the best hunting and fishing district in the state. A brook which turns a wheel for the supply of the house, and is full of trout, runs through the premises; there are also several fine springs close to the house. The open land is suitable for a dairy, and the timber land being less than half a mile from navigable water, the trees are all available for lumber or wood. The unimproved land will be subdivided to suit purchasers, if desired. For terms and further particulars inquire of the undersigned, near St. Helens, Oregon. m6d1w THOMAS STEWART.

Following is the petition presented [illegible]

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Portland

We the undersigned citizens and saloon keepers of the city of Portland would respectfully represent that we being deeply interested in the [illegible] of this city have fully considered the provisions of the late ordinance passed by your honorable body fixing the liquor license at $500 per annum. We would represent that it is [illegible] to [illegible] twice the [illegible] of [illegible] for [illegible] per [illegible] low and [illegible] This ordinance [illegible] in [illegible] and a [illegible] easy way of evading the law

As we understand the object and intent of the law to be [illegible] and not [illegible] we would respectfully suggest that a license fixed at $300 per annum payable quarterly in advance for all persons or dealers selling malt spirituous or vinous liquors in less quantities than one quart supplemented by a re-enactment of the bond clause increasing bonds to $5,000 would be an ordinance dealing equally with all parties, easily enforced difficult to evade and tending greatly to elevate the reputation of this city for order [illegible] and sobriety

Trusting that your honorable body will give the suggestions your earnest and careful consideration and attention as we have done. We would respectfully request you to enact an ordinance to [illegible] and we your petitioners will humbly pray [illegible]

It was the intention of those who signed the above pet tion to lay it before the committee appointed by the citizens meeting last Saturday night and to confer with them relative to the sum to be paid annually for license. They had been wrongfully informed that the council would not meet until next Wednesday and they further intended to force this petition through the meeting of the Liquor Dealers association to-day. In case of failure to impress upon the mob headed by Ben Norden and Dick Gerdes backed by Fleckenstein & Mayer and Martin & Co the danger of flaunting defiance in the face of pronounced public opinion, they intended to learn, by bringing the question to a vote, who were law abiding and who law breakers. But having learned late Tuesday afternoon that the council would meet next day they presented the matter without these tests. They believe that the citizens and the council demand higher license and realize that there was no way of avoiding it. They also believed if the matter were properly presented the council would see the policy of reducing the license below $500, and in this they were not mistaken. Norden and Gerdes yesterday appointed themselves a committee and visited nearly all the men who signed the above petition endeavoring to play the same bulldozing game as they attempted on The Oregonian. At nearly every place both gentlemen were informed that the respectable saloon keepers would not be dictated to by a man who keeping a saloon made oath that he was not a liquor dealer, or by a man who ran half a dozen dives and expected to use them to elect him into the city council. They told Ben Norden that he could not brow beat them into joining hands with him to foist himself into office and that there was too much decency in this community for him to be elected clerk, or sheriff, or appointed chief of police, or city auditor or even chosen constable and they told Dick Gerdes that they would eternally smash his ticket for councilman next June that they would spend every dollar they could raise to beat Henry Fleckenstein in the Third ward Bill Andrus in the Second, and Richard himself in the First.

It is not likely the respectable saloon keepers will attend this afternoon's meeting of the association because the keepers of dives announce there and a proposition to abide by the law would likely be voted down. Under the circumstances, they do not propose to be answerable for any part of the lawlessness shown by Fleckenstein & Mayer Martin & Co, Ben Norden and the proprietors of numerous other drinking holes and for any of the views expressed by (we quote the language of the Free Whisky Organ) by Richard Gerdes the well respected merchant

A DEMAND ON DUNDEE

Sheriff Sears Levies an Assessment of $120,000 on the "Dundee Land, Mortgage, Trust and Investment Company Limited

When Sheriff Sears received the last tax roll from the hands of the county assessor he noticed that a great many persons owning property and having money invested in this county had not returned these and had no taxes to pay. Whenever he had positive information in these cases he levied the sheriff's assessment upon the parties as he is required to do by law, these assessments amounting in all to the number of 63. Nearly all of the persons so assessed paid their taxes without a murmur and all but one have made no objection whatever. This one is the Dundee Land Mortgage Trust and Investment company which was assessed for $120,000 the tax upon which will amount to about $2,400 all of which, as the law provides in case of a sheriff's assessment goes to the county of Multnomah. Hugh Rogers the Portland manager of the company objected to this assessment and visited the sheriff who referred him to the county court. On Wednesday the matter was looked into by the court Mr Rogers being present. The court sustained the action of Sheriff Sears. Now comes the following correspondence between the sheriff and Mr Rogers which pretty thoroughly explains the matter at issue

MR ROGERS TO SHERIFF SEARS

Dear Sir I have called a meeting of the board of directors of the company for to-morrow to consider this tax question, and as it is essential that the entire case should be before them for determination I find it necessary to ask you for some information. In the first place I shall require the particulars which make up the amount of $120,000 and as at what late. This is all the more necessary because the statements made to me at the meeting yesterday were really so confusing and contradictory that no certain idea could be formed from them as to what the $120,000 actually represented. There and correct in the supposition that the law as it at present stands does not allow as a deduction for indebtedness the amount of notes or mortgages due to foreign corporations? This much I do know, that in a number of instances which have come under my notice the borrowers have been refused a deduction of debt due to our company on this very ground. That being so the tax upon these and the tax now sought to be levied on the company constitute a double charge on the same property. I would also be so good as to let me know for what period the tax is due and what is the date of your warrant for collection. I regret to give you this trouble but it will no doubt be the desire of the directors to have the whole question raised and tested in the law courts so that in future there shall be no uncertainty as to the position in which there seems at present to be no remedy. Yours truly HUGH ROGERS

EUGENE NOTES

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT

EUGENE CITY, April 5.

The senior class of the University of Oregon have received [illegible] written by Capt H Pierce for the planting of the class tree in June. The seniors are highly pleased with this truly excellent poem it being on a somewhat different style from any heretofore written, more national in character strong in thought and beautiful in expression

The drama "Above the Clouds" presented at Lane's hall last Friday evening by local talent was well received. Some of those who took part acquitted themselves remarkably well evincing natural talent coupled with careful study. The receipts were $180 expenses, about $45. The balance will be donated to the Orphans' home at The Dalles.

The city election held yesterday passed off quietly the result showing that the entire temperance ticket was elected with the exception of Dr T W Shelton for councilman. The names however of J M Sloan for councilman and B H James for treasurer appeared on all tickets. Following is the result, the three councilmen having the highest votes being the persons elected. For mayor—F B Dunn 1[illegible] Chas. Lauer 16. For councilmen—J M Sloan 41 W T Campbell 143 Jacob Gonser 144 J W Johnson 1[illegible] Dr T W Shelton 108 W H Abrams 85. A FEW VERY PLAIN WORDS
Which we have to [illegible]
TO THE PUBLIC
Before we publish our next Price List
IF
It sets some people [illegible]
THEN
Our object is attained
IF
It chagrins other
THEN
It must bear the stamp of Truth upon its face.

WE BELIEVE IT WILL DO BOTH.

The main reason for the efficacy of advertisements lies in their truth. When a firm places itself before the public in long-winded sentences, and those sentences lack the main essential, "truth," then that firm may as well save the trouble as well as expense, for the people will surely discover their falsities.

The FARMERS AND MECHANICS' has expended more money among the journals of this State than many store keepers possess as a working capital. It still continues to add thousands of dollars to its expense account for advertising. Does any one believe that such a thing could be possible unless it proved remunerative?—and what is more, that it would prove remunerative unless those advertisements were simple truths based upon facts?

When we tell the people that our goods are directly imported from the EASTERN MANUFACTORIES, we do not mean that they were imported through the San Francisco merchants.

When we advertise ONE PRICE TO ALL we do so without any mental reservation, for we do not then have in our mind any preferred customer whom we may favor above others

When we announce a line of STAPLE GOODS at a certain price, then we are careful to always have them in stock.

In this manner we could go on interminably, and show the difference between a real, genuine and sincere advertisement and a real, genuine catchpenny ad.

Our last week's price list on Clothing brought us an avalanche of country orders, and it would afford us great pleasure to prove by our sales books to any "doubting Thomas" that within the last eight days we sold over 360 Gents' Suits of Clothing. We venture the assertion that in the purchase of this clothing the people saved at least 33⅓ per cent. of the prevailing Portland prices.

WE BELIEVE THIS WILL SET THE PEOPLE THINKING.

REMEMBER.

Every business is conducted to make money. No merchant sells goods at a loss, unless he has paid too much for them, or hopes by selling some things at a loss to sell other goods at a large profit. A glance at any of the newspapers of the day will show how far these shameful methods are resorted to. "Sweeping Reductions," "Selling Below Cost," "Goods at $1 per yard, worth $1 50." What else do such things mean but fraud? Such dealers simply thrive on the credulity of the public. But happily there are other business methods in vogue. There are merchants who sell low by selling much. People who have ready cash, and are thus free to trade where they will, find this out and deal with such merchants more and more. In time a great trade springs up as strong and enduring as Gibraltar itself, because broadly founded on the deep-seated convictions of the public.

The larger such a business grows the more independent it is. It dictates prices to manufacturers. It gets the best goods—the very cream of the market. On the other hand, it has the power of protecting its customers by selling to every one at the same prices; by allowing credit to no one, and by putting the selling price in plain figures on every article.

We do not claim superior honesty, but to have an [illegible] able business honorably conducted, and one which has grown through the force of its own merit in the manner indicated.

To every customer we at least promise [illegible] treatment, and we believe we could [illegible] add: A saving in money to every one who trades here.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES

India as a Wheat Country.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—As India is a growing rival of the United States in supply of wheat for the British market, Americans who export will be interested in the report on Indian wheat productions by H. Mattson, consul general at Calcutta, in the February number of the consular reports, which is just out. Mr. Mattson's conclusions are as follows: That India can produce an average quality of wheat and at as low cost as the producers of [illegible] locality in the United States, that she can now supply the European market with [illegible] bushels annually, and possesses facilities for increasing the supply to an almost unlimited extent; that owing to the great cheapness of home consumption and to the vast amount of land awaiting cultivation that in quality, cheapness, transportation, facilities for handling, safety against damage during transit and stability of money exchange, American wheat, especially that from the new northwest has such advantages that there need be no serious apprehension on account of Indian competition at legitimate prices, but in order to maintain this advantage it is absolutely necessary that America should keep pace with India in efforts to reduce and maintain freights at the lowest possible minimum. On the other hand it is an indisputable fact that Indian wheat has already become, and will continue to be, a very important factor in the grain markets of Europe, and a check against high prices brought about either by speculation or any other unnecessary or artificial means; and finally that upon the basis of a fair average crop throughout the world the American farmer will have to prepare himself to reduce the cost of production to the lowest minimum, and be content with small profits or else wheat growing in India will be stimulated to such an extent that subsequent competition may become extremely formidable.

Important Cattle Sale.

CHICAGO, April 5.—A large gathering of stock men at Dexter park to-day participated in the sale of Polled Angus, Galloway, Hereford, Short-horn, Devon and West Highland cattle. A lot of West Highland cattle, the property of Lear & Bros., of Canada, George Whitefield and others, 42 head, was disposed of for an aggregate of $19,330, prices running with remarkable evenness. Only two reached one thousand. Polled Angus and Fitz James brought one thousand, and Ensbranger, of the same breed, $1150.

Internal Revenue Regulations.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The commissioner of internal revenue will issue to-day new circular instructions with regard to collection of what are known as "specials;" that is taxes imposed upon manufacturers of and dealers in malt and distilled liquors and tobacco. The circular provides that where special taxes shall have become due and not paid by the 1st of May next, such special taxes shall be assessed and collected as other taxes are collected, but receipting therefor in a form of warrant instead of issuing the special stamp as heretofore provided for in circular No. 281.

Not very Important.

PARIS, April 5.—Gen. De Gallifet in an interview declares that all heads of departments and subdirectors of the war office are sycophants and communists, and that the decree in regard to autumn cavalry maneuvers was prepared with the assistance of journalists. Gen. Thibanden, he said, had recently given him his word and honor he should not be deprived of any dignity.

Sale of Seats for the Musical Festival.

CINCINNATI, April 5.—At the sale of dramatic festival seats the whole number sold was 867. Total receipts, $30,404; of which $12,206 were premiums; average premium twenty-one and two-thirds dollars or seven dollars more than the fixed price. The [illegible] is gratifying. Sale continues two days longer.

Reception of John J. Kiernan.

ALBANY, April 5.—The reception of Senator John J. Kiernan last night was the social sensation of the [illegible]. The governor, lieut.-governor and all Albany society were present. Many distinguished [illegible] came up from New York and Brooklyn. (The [illegible] Senator Kiernan's home.) Bishop Laughlin, [illegible] Ward Beecher and Mayor Low sent regrets.

Charters Forfeited.

[illegible], April 5.—Governor Pattison has issued a proclamation declaring forfeited charters for [illegible] companies failing to make returns [illegible] within three years. It is said [illegible] will include 175 corporations of such character [illegible] general surprise.

Grant Gives a Dinner.

[illegible], April 5.—General Grant gave a dinner [illegible] at Union League club last night. Among the guests were Mayor Edson, W. M. Evarts, Roscoe Conkling, Jay Gould, Matias Romero, [illegible], Clarence A. Seward, General Lloyd, [illegible], Col. F. D. Grant, U. S. Grant, Jr., William Henry Hurlburt, and members of [illegible].

Burned to Death.

[illegible], Ind., April 5.—A negro cabin was burned to-day, and two colored children, aged five [illegible], were burned to death. The mother left them locked in the cabin. The fire communicated [illegible] and burned an adjoining church.

Incendiarism in St. Jo, Mo.

CHIEF MOSES' TROUBLE.

[illegible] of this Distinguished Indian at Gen. Miles' [illegible], the Statement of his Grievance against the Government.

VANCOUVER April 4.

[illegible] morning, somewhat to the surprise of [illegible], Chief Moses, in charge of Lieut. [illegible], U. S. Infantry, stepped off the [illegible] and went immediately to the residence of Gen. Miles. Your correspondent, learning of this, hastened [illegible] to department headquarters. [illegible] a large, fine looking Indian, with a [illegible] exceedingly large perceptive faculties, [illegible] clothing and moccasins, looking [illegible] and downcast, and evidently much [illegible].

[illegible] sent for Dr. Randolph Smith, mayor [illegible] to interpret for Moses sufficiently to [illegible] understand that John McBean, the Yakima interpreter, had been telegraphed for [illegible] the consultation which the [illegible] Gen. Miles concerning the [illegible] president dividing his reservation, [illegible] protests loudly and with [illegible] tears in his eyes, as he says he [illegible] peace with the whites.

[illegible] through Dr. Smith, gave Moses to understand [illegible] interpreter would be here as soon as [illegible] talk over matters. That your many [illegible] know just what title Moses has to the [illegible] I here give the language of the executive [illegible] out the compact between Moses and [illegible] of the United States:

WASHINGTON, COLUMBIA RESERVE,
EXECUTIVE MANSION, March 6, 1880.

[illegible] ordered that the tract of country in [illegible] territory lying within the following described boundaries, viz: Commencing at the intersection of the 40-mile limits of the branch line of the Northern Pacific railroad with the Okanakan river; [illegible] said river to the boundary line between the United States and British Columbia; [illegible] west on said boundary line to the 44th degree of longitude west from Washington; thence south on said degree of longitude to its intersection with the 40-mile limits of the branch line of the Northern Pacific railroad; and thence with the line of said 40-mile limits to place of beginning, be, and the same is hereby withdrawn from sale and set apart as a reservation for the permanent use and occupancy of Chief Moses and his people, and such other friendly Indians, as may elect to settle thereon with his consent and that of the secretary of the interior or [illegible].

WASHINGTON, COLUMBIA RESERVE,
EXECUTIVE MANSION, March 6, 1880.

[illegible] ordered that the tract of country in [illegible] territory lying within the following described boundaries, viz: Commencing at a point [illegible] boundary line of the reservation [illegible] Chief Moses and his people by executive order April 19, 1879, intersects the Okanakan [illegible] down said river to its confluence with [illegible] river; thence across and down the [illegible] Columbia river to a point opposite [illegible] the outlet to Lake Chelan; thence [illegible] Columbia river and along the south shore of said outlet to Lake Chelan; thence following the meanderings of the south bank [illegible] to the mouth of Stehekin creek; thence [illegible] along the south bank of said creek to its [illegible], thence due west to the 44th degree of longitude west from Washington; thence north along [illegible] to the south boundary of the reservation created by executive order of April 19, 1879, thence along the south boundary of said reservation to the place of beginning, be, and the same is withdrawn from sale and settlement, and set apart for the permanent use and occupancy of Chief Moses and his people, and such other friendly Indians as may elect to settle thereon with his consent and that of the secretary of the interior, as an addition to the reservation set apart for said Chief Moses and his people by executive order dated April 19, 1879.

R. B. HAYES.

Some days ago Chief Moses came in to the headquarters of Col. Merriam at Fort Spokane, asking about the division of his reservation, on account of the floating rumors. Col. Merriam told him he had no official information and asked Moses if he desired him to send any word to Department Commander, [illegible], to which he replied as follows:

"A few years ago I had trouble in my heart. I carried a gun everywhere and expected sometime to [illegible]. I saw General Howard. He asked [illegible], and sent me to Washington to see the great chief General Hayes. He was kind to me and marked out a reservation for me and my people. He promised that it should be permanent. It made me very happy. I trusted the government. I put away my gun. I made up my heart to live at peace, and to die a natural death. I have been told by Indians and white men that the government was only trifling with me and would take away my land again. I would not listen to such talk, and I have been [illegible]. The common Indian and the common [illegible] amount to very little and their talk has [illegible] me. The soldiers and the common [illegible] amount to more; but the great chief at Washington is a mighty chief, and [illegible], his word and his promise should be as [illegible]. I will wait now until I know what [illegible]." So Col. Merriam has brought Moses down to headquarters by order of Gen. Miles for consultation.

The cause of the excitement with Moses, then, [illegible] out of the following:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
February 23, 1883.

It is hereby ordered that the tract of country in Washington Territory, lying within the following described boundaries, viz: Commencing at the intersection of the forty-fourth degree of longitude west from Washington, with the boundary line between the United States and British Columbia, thence due south fifteen miles; thence due east to the Okanakan river; thence up said river to the boundary line between the United States and British Columbia; thence west along said boundary line to the place of beginning, being a portion of the country set apart for the use of Chief Moses and his people, by executive orders of April 19, 1879, and March 6, 1880, is, and the same is hereby restored to the public domain.

New York Freights.

NEW YORK, April 5—[Special.]—There is nothing new in clipper freights. The Arabia and Wm. McGilvery will be full by the 14th. Rates are unchanged. Tonnage is offered more freely, but lines are not in want. The war of rates between the Sunset route and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Weston route is becoming lively. The former announced a further cut to-day, which will be met to-morrow by a still lower cut by the latter. This is but the inauguration of a fight that must eventually break up the eastern trunk line pool, as the latter, it is said, will take no part in the fight, as the business is not worth it, it being only 1½ per cent. of their whole traffic. It will be several days before it is known which route has done the best.

SUPREME COURT.

SALEM, April 5, 1883.

Court adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Rejoice! Rejoice! "He is Alive Again." "Was Lost, but is Found."

Under date of July 3, 1882, Mr. E. D. Bright, of Windsor Locks, Conn., writes a plain, modest narrative, which, from its very simplicity, has the true ring of fine gold. He says—

"My father is using Hunt's Remedy and seems to be improving; in fact, he is very much better than he has been for a long time. He had been tapped three times. The first time they got from him sixteen quarts of water, the second time thirteen quarts, and fully as much more the third time, and he would continue to fill up again every time after he had been tapped until he commenced using Hunt's Remedy, which acted like magic in his case, as he began to improve at once, and now his watery accumulation passes away through the secretions naturally, and he has none of that swelling or filling up which was so frequent before the functions of the kidneys were restored by the use of Hunt's Remedy. He is a well known citizen of this place, and has always been a business here."

Again he writes, Nov. 27, 1882,—

"I beg most cheerfully and truthfully to state, in regard to Hunt's Remedy, that its use was the saving of my father's life. I spoke to you in my previous letter in regard to his being tapped three times. It is the most remarkable case that has been heard of in this section. For a man of his age, sixty years, it is a most remarkable cure. He had been unable to attend to his business more than a year, and was given up by the doctors.

"The first bottle of Hunt's Remedy that he used gave instant relief. He has used in all seven bottles, and continues to use it whenever he feels drowsy or sluggish, and it affords instant relief. He is now attending to his regular business, and has been for several months. I am perfectly willing that you should publish this letter, as we thoroughly believe that father's life was saved by using Hunt's Remedy, and these facts given above may be a benefit to others suffering in like manner from diseases of the Kidneys and Liver."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

THURSDAY, April 5.

Trade for the week has been very satisfactory as compared with that of former weeks. There has been no unusual movement of any particular line, if we except the large importation of rice.

Weather variable, with no rain for three days. Spring crops are considerably in, although more seeding will be done, if the weather permits, in the week to come. Some farmers allowed themselves to be controlled by the idea that wild oats were taking possession of their fields, and to sow wheat would be only a waste of seed and time. This notion has not been justified by later observations. With the first rains wild oats came up freely, as would any other seed in the ground at that time, but the quantity is not unusually alarming, and these fields will be reseeded. From Linn county we learn that every available acre has been or will be seeded. Other sections report the same. More oats have been put in than was at first intended, owing to scarcity of seed wheat at the time it was wanted. New wheat is coming up in good shape, showing much strength and evenness. There is every indication of more than an average crop at this time, and without later disaster such will undoubtedly be the case.

Wholesale jobbers continue to complain of scanty remittances and careful orders. The large immigration now being had has naturally increased the demand for goods and money is somewhat easier in consequence. With the proceeds of sale of wool, soon to come in, remittances will be quite free as nearly every farmer has some sheep. A firm that dealt out 10,000 bushels of seed wheat on terms that they expect four-fifths of it to be paid for at that time.

Freights without change. No charters have been written here for some time. Reports that a large wooden vessel on spot had been taken could be traced to no authentic source. No immediate cargo could be furnished such a vessel. A handy iron bark is here, but no one seems to want a vessel. In future business there is more talk but no new takings reported. About 63s is the asking rate for September. It will be some weeks before there is any salmon shipping of moment. There is enough salmon in England and afloat to preclude any considerable shipping for a time. An iron vessel was taken at San Francisco to-day at 40s for orders, immediate loading. As having some bearing on the future freight situation we extract the following from a Christchurch, N. Z., circular Feb. 1:

"Charterers' views have been more than ever depressed by the demoralized state of the Adelaide market, and by the plethora of tonnage seeking engagements in Melbourne, Sydney and other Australian ports. At the same time it is evident that ship owners are pretty well determined not to go below a certain range, and therefore there seems no immediate probability of charters being effected from Lyttleton to the U. K. at less than 35s@37s 6d. Even at these rates there is no anxiety to charter and exporters are not alarmed."

It is very difficult to get a quotation for wheat, but the highest given to-day was $1.85. It is generally claimed this is above what would be paid. There are no immediate needs to be supplied and millers are backward. There seems no doubt but there are several good sized lots in the interior yet to come forward, but there is not the least inducement at this time. Were buyers and sellers not so far apart, the chances would be good for the shipment of another cargo. As it is, the remaining supplies will find its way into the mills.

Flour firm, the decline in wheat having no apparent influence as yet. Present values will doubtless be realized for some time to come.

Oats not so firm, offerings being on the increase. It is generally conceded that the interior has considerable to send forward. That the market has declined is shown by the fact that job lots can be had for 70@72 cts where 75@77½c was had a week ago. A car load of choice was sold this week to a mill for 72cts. Holders exhibit more anxiety but are compelled to hold to avoid breaking the market. San Francisco advices to-day are less firm in tone although barley advanced. The decline cannot amount to much however, indications being that market will settle at 60@65 cts.

Mill stuff remains firm; increasing local receipts serve to cut off importations. There is no change in quotations.

Potatoes rather weaker and it takes a good lot to bring 30 cents.

Fruits show no particular change. In apples only the best are wanted and even the choicest coming in are not of usual choice selections. Oranges very plentiful and cheap.

Dried fruit steady, the demand not showing expected increase. Choice lots, however, move off well.

Provisions in about equal demand and supply, the market showing no special feature.

Hides, skins and tallow without change. A fair business is done.

Fresh meats still firm; it being difficult to get free supplies. Prices are consequently well maintained.

Chickens hardly so firm, receipts having increased.

Eggs are firmer, occasional sales having been made at 25 cents and most dealers will hold out for that figure to-night and to-morrow. Stocks have been well worked off.

Butter again cleaned up, sales being at 28@30cts.

General merchandise markets in good trade. Importations have been increased to meet the demand. Beans show much strength with further advance certain. Pink and reds are in strong hands, and butte are very scarce. Coffee is firm, feeling owing to advices. From all supply ports come reports of short yield. Sugars steady with large trade. Grain bags firmer with slight advance asked. Salt firm. Rice firm at unchanged prices.

Receipts past 24 hours include 21 ctls wheat, 2467 bbls flour, 207 ctls oats, 50,101 lbs bran, 60,293 lbs mill stuff, 47 sks potatoes, 41 bls hay, 325 lbs hides, 10 bxs butter, 4156 doz eggs, 107 bxs fruit, 277 bbls lime. Also 50,000 lbs mill stuff, 2045 lbs hides, 1840 lbs wool from the eastern section.

RELIABLE TESTIMONY.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 6, 1882.

HOP BITTERS CO.:—I am 74 years old, have lived 31 years in Philadelphia, and well known among Germans. I have been troubled 12 years with a swelling on my right foot, and getting worse every year, at every attack, and breaking out in hot weather. I consulted several doctors and they told me it was incurable, and I would have to take it with me in the grave. Some time ago I lost my appetite, was costive, had headache and fever, in fact, was very sick. I read in the [illegible] Democrat that Hop Bitters was what I needed. I got a bottle, took it one week, and was very much astonished to my greatest surprise, that from the first [illegible] swelling went down gradually, and I taking another bottle, got entirely well of it. The wife of my neighbor had two such swellings on her legs, and three bottles cured her. I think this is a great triumph for your bitters.

JOHN STOLL.

DEAR SIRS:—I have read so much about Hop Bitters, and always being afflicted with neuralgia, diseased stomach, never having much health, I tried a couple of bottles. It has strengthened and helped me more than any medicine or doctor. I am now on my third bottle, and am thankful that it has helped me. I will advise all that are afflicted to give it a trial.

HOP BITTERS CO.:—I have not been well for three years; tried almost every kind of patent medicines, and no less than seven doctors, one of Elmira, N. Y. None have done me any good. I finally tried your Hop Bitters, and found them just the thing. I have praised them so highly there is a great number here who use them with great benefit and satisfaction.

Very Respectfully Yours,
R. HUNT.

GENTLEMEN:—The "Hop Bitters" meet with large sales and give general satisfaction. One case in particular you should know of. Mr. John B. Green, 728 Spring Garden St., Phila, Pa., has been suffering from kidney affection, which superinduced rheumatism. He tried physicians and remedies in vain. He was obliged to take morphine to induce sleep, his trouble was so great. Reading your advertisement in the "Christian at Work," he was prevailed upon by one of his daughters to try it. Three bottles effected a cure, and now he is an enthusiast for "Hop Bitters." He is one of the oldest residents in the locality named, and known as a gentleman of unusual probity.

HOP BITTERS CO.—I have been suffering five years past with neuralgia, liver complaint, dyspepsia and kidney complaint, and I have doctored with fourteen different doctors who did me no good. At last I tried Hop Bitters, and after using a few bottles I received a great benefit from them, and if I had used Hop Bitters regularly I would have been well before. I know them to be the best medicine in the world for nervous diseases of all kinds.

Wicked for Clergymen.

"I believe it to be all wrong, and even wicked, for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or patent medicines, but when a really meritorious article, composed of valuable remedies known to all and that all physicians use and trust in daily, we should freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use. I will not be without them."

REV. B. R——, Washington, D. C.

A good Baptist clergyman of Bergen, N. Y., a strong temperance man, suffered with kidney trouble, neuralgia and dizziness almost to blindness, over two years after he was advised that Hop Bitters would cure him, because he was afraid of and prejudiced against the word "bitters." Since his cure he says none need fear but trust in Hop Bitters.

My wife and daughter were made healthy by Hop Bitters, and I recommend them to my people.—Methodist Clergyman, Mexico, N. Y.
